

Trainee Medical Writer
Ref: 322/09

Competitive Salary
High Wycombe

Our client is an established, dynamic medical communications agency servicing a varied and growing international client base. They are looking to recruit an Editorial Assistant/Trainee Medical Writer.

Alpha-Plus puts the Medical Writer at the front of the stage, rather than keeping them as a supporting act to a series of Account Managers or Directors. Our streamlined working model encourages greater professional and personal growth for Medical Writers, as well as enhancing efficiency and satisfaction – both on the part of the Medical Writer and the client!

If you would like to discover an approach to medical communications that allows you to fulfil your potential, with opportunities for Medical Writers that go beyond those offered at most conventional agencies, you should consider applying for a starring role at Alpha-Plus.
